GOLDEN COMPASS 3.0 SUPPORTS OS/2 WARP 4

MT. LAUREL, NJ -- September 25, 1996 -- Creative Systems Programming Corporation announces OS/2® Warp 4 compatibility in Golden CommPass® version 3.0. Golden CommPass is an internationally recognized, award winning OS/2 navigation program to automate access to the CompuServe® Information Service.

This version provides support for CompuServe's Host-Micro Interface (HMI) and their New Information Systems Architecture (NISA) Forums®. In addition, the new release of Golden CommPass includes native TCP/IP support for connecting to the information service.

Larry B. Finkelstein, president of Creative Systems Programming Corporation, said, "Golden CommPass version 3.0 will further enhance the Internet connectivity features of OS/2 Warp 4 by providing seamless access to the vast array of CompuServe services, products and forums."

Golden CommPass version 3.0 is available directly from Creative Systems Programming Corporation for $99. It is also available at a discounted price from Indelible Blue and other resellers that stock OS/2 software titles.

Registered users of version 2.2 may advance order version 3.0 at a special reduced price of $29 until October 25, 1996. They will also be eligible to download version 3.0 from the Golden CommPass Support Forum (GO GCPSUPPORT) on CompuServe when it is released. Users of prior versions can upgrade to version 3.0 for $49. Registered users should contact Creative Systems Programming Corporation Customer Support at 71511.151@CompuServe.com to upgrade.
